

Cable tray elbows are available in stock

AI Overview

Cable tray elbows can be purchased from industrial suppliers and online marketplaces such as Alibaba, Kim Long Trading, Matkel, PUPCO, and McMaster-Carr. Online Suppliers and Retailers

Alibaba: Offers bulk cable tray elbows starting around $1.30 each, available in galvanized and stainless steel, suitable for industrial use and large-scale projects.

Kim Long Trading: Provides a variety of cable tray accessories including horizontal and vertical elbows, straight connectors, and components made from galvanized steel, stainless steel, or aluminum for corrosion resistance.

Matkel: Sells Bahra Cables Cable Ladder Tray Elbows, 90-degree horizontal elbows made from hot dip galvanized steel, designed for heavy-duty cable support. Discounts are available for orders exceeding 10 or 100 items.

PUPCO: Offers 60° horizontal elbows compatible with various NEMA cable tray classes, with options for different radii and flange widths. Customers can request quotes and fast shipping.

McMaster-Carr: Provides a wide range of cable tray accessories, including elbows, straight connectors, and drop-outs, suitable for wire mesh trays and other configurations. Their products are corrosion-resistant and designed for easy installation.

Considerations When Buying

Material: Choose between galvanized steel, stainless steel, or aluminum depending on environmental conditions and corrosion resistance needs.

Angle and Type: Select horizontal or vertical elbows, and the appropriate degree (e.g., 60°, 90°) to match your cable routing requirements.

Compatibility: Ensure the elbow fits the width and class of your existing cable tray system.

Quantity and Pricing: Bulk orders often reduce cost per unit, especially for industrial projects. These suppliers provide both online ordering and bulk purchasing options, making it convenient to source cable tray elbows for commercial, industrial, or construction applications.
