

Price of 2-meter-high cable trays

AI Overview

The price of a 2-meter cable tray typically ranges from $4 to $50 depending on material, type, and finish. Price Overview Cable trays are priced based on material, type, and surface finish. The average cost per meter ranges from $2 to $25, so a 2-meter tray would cost approximately $4 to $50 . Key factors affecting price include:

Material: Galvanized steel is common and cost-effective, stainless steel is more expensive due to corrosion resistance, aluminum is lightweight but pricier, and plastic trays are budget-friendly but not suitable for heavy loads .

Type: Ladder trays are more expensive but support heavy cables, while wire mesh or perforated trays are cheaper and ideal for lighter cabling .

Surface Finish: Hot-dip galvanized (HDG) trays are durable outdoors but cost more, powder-coated trays offer wear protection, and pre-galvanized trays are cheaper but less durable .

Practical Considerations

Installation Efficiency: Cable trays are generally faster and easier to install than conduit pipes, which can reduce labor costs and overall project expenses .

Bulk Orders: Ordering in bulk can lower the per-unit cost significantly .

Length Adjustments: Standard trays are often 2.4 meters long, so a 2-meter tray may be slightly cheaper if cut to size or purchased as a custom length .

Example Pricing

Galvanized steel ladder tray: ~$10-$20 per meter → 2-meter tray: ~$20-$40

Wire mesh tray: ~$2-$5 per meter → 2-meter tray: ~$4-$10

Aluminum tray: ~$15-$25 per meter → 2-meter tray: ~$30-$50

These estimates provide a practical range for budgeting purposes, but exact prices may vary by supplier, region, and project specifications. For precise pricing, contacting local distributors or suppliers like McMaster-Carr or CEF is recommended .
